The safety of conference participants is ISCB's top priority. Please take a moment to review the ISMB Health and Safety Protocols at <https://www.iscb.org/about/iscb/policies-statements-bylaws-and-legal-documents/health-and-safety-protocols>, which outline the right of entry requirement to the conference.

Special offer: For delegates registering no later than March 31, 2026, you are eligible for a full conference refund at any date prior to the opening day of the conference should your plans change.

Depending on where you live, you will need to meet certain entry requirements to visit the United States (USA). Detailed information on who can travel to the USA can be found on this site.

If you require a visa letter to support your application, please review the information here. We recommend this is completed after you register for the conference and no less than 12 weeks (April 19, 2026) in advance of the conference. Visa letters will still be processed after this date, but may not be approved in time.

Registration is for the full conference. Participants can choose to register to join in-person or virtually. In-person participants will have access to the virtual platform - ISCB Nucleus, the ISCB center for science, collaboration, and training.

Registration includes the following conference benefits:

- Live sessions with on-demand recordings to benefit attendees from all time zones
- 500+ expected scientific talks
- Live question and answer feature to engage with the speaker during sessions
- Asynchronous poster theater featuring the posters of the conference with interactive chat and author contact features
- Ability to make new connections when utilizing the virtual attendee profile and matchmaker features
- Schedule one-on-one time with speakers, poster presenters, exhibitors, and sponsors to learn more about their work, products, or services
- Exclusive access to the on-demand repository of talks and poster presentations for viewing at your leisure after conference dates through the virtual platform
- Access to training workshops and tutorials (additional fee)
- Access to Student Council Symposium (additional fee - coffee breaks included for in-person SCs)
- Coffee breaks are included for the conference along with an opening reception.
 - Lunches WILL NOT be included, but you will have the opportunity to add them during your registration or eat at a nearby restaurant.

When you register, please ensure that you select your preferred programme options from the list of Communities of Special Interest \(COSI\) or other programme options.

Registration fees are in USD. Certificates of participation will be available on-line following the conference for registered delegates who actively participated.

ISCB strongly prefers that submissions accepted for oral presentation be presented in-person at the conference venue. We understand that some presenters will have good reasons to avoid in-person attendance. ISCB will grant remote presentation options for reasons associated to maternity/paternity leave, care for a family member, personal/medical disability, sickness, or visa problems. Presenters are expected to attend in person unless genuine barriers exist. Inability implies circumstance, not choice. If unable to participate in-person you will need to request a waiver by writing presentationalwaiver@iscb.org at the earliest opportunity.

Talks will be broadcast live through the virtual platform for participants. All virtual talk presenters will be required to provide a pre-recorded talk in advance of the conference.

Conference Fellowships

ISCB is pleased to offer conference (travel and registration) fellowships to any member in good standing with priority going to members from low or middle income countries as well as students and postdoctoral fellows to attend the conference. Funding sources for Fellowships are very limited and we regret that we are not able to fund all applicants. The conference organizers are committed to providing support to as many eligible applicants as possible. Fellowship consideration is based on membership, accepted work, and country economic status. For more details visit the Conference Fellowships page.

Student Council Symposium

The ISCB Student Council Symposium is a student-organized event featuring keynote lectures, oral presentations and a poster session. The Symposium is tailored mainly to undergraduate and graduate students as well as post-docs in computational biology and related disciplines.

The Student Council Symposium is a forum for students and young researchers in the fields of Computational Biology and Bioinformatics. Participants will have the opportunity to present their work to an international audience, build a network within the computational biology community and develop important soft skills in an environment that fosters an exchange of ideas and knowledge.

Payment Options

Credit Card

Conference fees are charged in USD. The following credit/gift cards are accepted for registration: MasterCard and Visa.

Cheque

Last day to pay by cheque is June 12, 2026. After this time, only Credit Card payment is accepted

Delegates wishing to pay using a cheque will select "pay by check" on the Payment page during registration to create an invoice. Payment information will be found on the summary page once registration is complete, as well as at the last page of the PDF invoice.

Should funds arrive with bank fees deducted, payment of the difference will be charged to the participant at on-site registration.

Wire Transfer

Last day to pay by wire is June 12, 2026. After this time, only Credit Card payment is accepted

Delegates wishing to pay using a wire transfer will select "pay by wire" on the Additional Options page and the Payment page during registration to create an invoice with wire payment instructions. Wire transfer information will be found on the summary page once registration is complete, as well as on the last page of the PDF invoice.

Please note that a $15.00 wire administration fee must be added during your registration for those choosing to pay by wire transfer. Should funds arrive with bank fees deducted, payment of the difference will be charged to the participant at on-site registration.

If you will be paying by ACH rather than an electronic wire transfer, please email registration@iscb.org to specify that, as the detailed instructions are different.
